

Spring 2014 - 'Infectious Beauty'

Quore's Spring 2014, 'Infectious Beauty' is based on shared human experiences, by looking at ideas belonging and opposing to modes of existence. While not visible, the human relationship with bacteria cannot be ignored; it can be the antidote or the affliction. Inspired by this process, the collection is designed with a distinct uniqueness and exquisite attention to detail. "Infectious Beauty" is a harmonious combination of microbes and 70's fashion style. Drawing from the nonchalant elegance of the 70's period and the microscopic imagery of bacterial renderings, Quore's 'Infectious Beauty', combines sophisticated easy fit for women who seek apparel with substance and worth.

1 Micro-Slit Bacteria Blouse - $75
Microscopic Bacteria Skirt - $265

2. The Rhoda Vest - $505
A-Symmetrical Print Skirt - $290

3. Spring Coat - $800

4. The Mary Dress - $450